

My Voice. My Choice. Take Charge

Technology has opened the world to our children like never before:

An Osborn Education™

Instantaneous communication, the ability to connect face-to-face with new friends in far-away places; even sharing their lives through photographs and videos to networks of millions of people.

And, there in lies the challenge.

It used to be a parent's job was to know your child's friends, but when she has 894 of them on a social networking site, how is this possible?

My Voice. My Choice. Take Charge. Has the answer.

Kicking things off, Arizona Attorney General, Terry Goddard brings his Internet safety message directly to Osborn middle school students on September 28th.

Catch Attorney General, Goddard's remarks in a 30 minute Cox7-Arizona exclusive program about Internet Safety. Show features will also include, Ivan Johnson, Cox Communication's, Vice President of Community Relations and TeleVideo. Mr. Johnson will show viewers the tools available, to parents, limiting the amount of information their children can share online.

This locally produced special will be hosted by television's America's Most Wanted, John Walsh. We'll show you ways to safeguard your child in the world of instant and text messaging, social networks, and cyber bullying.

Additionally, we'll also follow one Arizona student to Washington, DC, as she participates in a Teen Summit on Internet Safety.

My Voice. My Choice. Take Charge.

Will help parents and young people cope with the technologies that sometimes open unwanted doors to the world around us. If you care about the safety of your children - it's a show you can't afford to miss.

SMART CHOICES FOR YOUR COX DIGITAL HOME

My Voice, My Choice Take Charge is presented by SCF Arizona and brought to you by the Arizona Attorney General's Office.
