Terry Goddard Announces Opening of Flagstaff Satellite Offices

(Phoenix, Ariz. – Aug. 21, 2007) Attorney General Terry Goddard today announced the opening of two new Attorney General's satellite offices in Flagstaff. The two offices, located on the east and west side of town, will provide convenient neighborhood venues for Flagstaff residents to find information on consumer fraud, civil rights and victims rights as well as file complaints with the Attorney General's Office.

The new offices are located at the Murdoch Community Center, 203 E. Brannen Ave., and the Sunnyside One Stop, 2403 N. Izabel. The Murdoch Community Center satellite office will be open Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Sunnyside One Stop satellite office will be open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Flagstaff locations are two of the Attorney General's 31 satellite offices in Arizona. These offices are staffed by local volunteers trained to make presentations for community groups, assist individuals with filing complaints and provide information on consumer fraud and other community concerns.

The Attorney General's Office previously maintained a satellite office at the Flagstaff Family Resource Center. Informational materials and Office contact information are still available at this location, but it will no longer be staffed.

For more information, please contact Community Outreach Coordinator Will Bessette at (602) 542-2079.
