Good Morning [REDACTED] I am back from vacation.
Your name came up today during our Monday morning "Oh Shit" meeting in relation to this story.
Both comms and policy are looking for an update on where we are in terms of fixing "location history" fixes and having one single place to turn off instead of 3:

"There are a number of different ways that Google may use location to improve people's experience, including: Location History, Web and App Activity, and through device-level Location Services," a Google spokesperson said in a statement to the AP. "We provide clear descriptions of these tools, and robust controls so people can turn them on or off, and delete their histories at any time."

Who should I reach out to for an update?

Thanks!
